BEAUTY IS CAPTIVE; WON BY FORMER OFFICER OF ARMY

An announcement which will be a surprise to a host of friends through out Tennessee and Mississippi is that of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Elizabeth Greer, the lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Greer, to Mr. Vance Maynard, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Maynard, both of Memphis, the wedding to take place in December at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Greer.

Miss Greer is one of the most popular members of Memphis' younger society and, as a debutante, she has a wide circle of friends among the young and old alike.

She attended the High School for the year, later entering St. Mary's school, where she was graduated with honors in 1935. Last year she attended the West Tennessee Normal, and had planned to enter college this winter, but educational ambition is no match for Mr. Cupid, and after all the wise old sages of golden ages past were not speaking of educational careers when they sang of "The Greatest Thing in the World," of beautiful pre-nuptial affairs will be given in honor of Miss Greer and her popular young fiancé prior to their wedding, which will be one of the most brilliant social events of the winter social season.

Mr. Thompson is a graduate of the Memphis University school, and has been several years a student at Vanderbilt University. He left college last year to enter the intelligence service of the United States government, where he was widely recognized by his splendid work in that department during the last year of the war.

He is one of the most popular young men in the city and also has a great circle of friends in Arkansas, where he is now managing the plantation owned by his father, M. D. Thompson.

MISS ADELE ORGILL HEADS NEW GIRLS' COTILLON CLUB

Debutantes-to-be, your worries are at an end! You have only to prepare for the most glorious social season since the days before the war, for the reorganization of the Girls' Cotillon club of Memphis Saturday morning solved the problem of what is going to take the place of the Chickasaw guards' ball this winter.

With Miss Adele Orgill as president, Miss Fiecia Mae Phillips as secretary and Miss Sophie Farnsworth as treasurer, great things may assuredly be expected of the club, which was so greatly missed from the social life of Memphis last year, having been disbanded temporarily because of the war.

All who know Miss Orgill have absolute faith in her ability to "put things over," and there isn't going to be one dull moment for the debutantes this season, with her as leader of the club which is already expected to direct the most delightful affairs of the season.

The meeting of the Girls' Cotillon club, and its reorganization which resulted Saturday morning, was held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Donelson, who was before her marriage, Miss Nancy Busby, one of the most popular members of the club during its last brilliant year, the winter of 1935. Her sister, Miss Mary Lee Busby, will take her place in the social whirl this season, as a debutante, and a member of the club, in which Mrs. Donelson was so popular.

The popular girls who were deprived of the pleasure of making their formal debut, and of the brilliant formal social affairs, were very anxious to see the club's first year out, because of the war, will be members of the Cotillon club this winter, and while they will not be included upon the list of those who will make their initial bow to society, they will play an active part in making the season one of the most brilliant in many years.

Although the list of the debutantes for the season is by no means complete at present, it is known that several of the leaders of the sub-set set who are spending their first winter at home, and who are already very popular in Memphis, will be among the 1936 debutantes. Miss Elizabeth Jordan, Miss Mary Lee Busby, Miss Elizabeth Greer, Miss Virginia Butler, Miss Patricia Russell, Miss Marie Cordes, Miss Mabel Pidgeon, Miss Jewett Swift, Miss Barbara Smith, Miss Lucille Warlick, Miss Natalie Duvant, Miss Elizabeth Tachy and Miss Mildred Johnston.

It is hoped that a complete list of those who are intending making their debut this winter, may be secured by the latter part of the week, and the schedule of the brilliant affairs which are to be given in their honor properly arranged.

Although no definite plans concerning the parties which are to be given by the Girls' Cotillon club will be arranged until its meeting next week, it is thought that one brilliant formal ball will be given, and a series of smaller parties.

Some of the most beautiful parties which have ever been given here are being planned by the debutantes-to-be. Each year will be introduced by a formal affair at her home, given by her parents, following the old Southern custom which still is in vogue in Atlanta, and many other Southern cities, which are noted throughout the United States for the success and brilliancy of their debutante affairs. Although the debutantes' ball of the Chickasaw Guards, which had given Memphis prestige in social affairs throughout the country, will be badly missed, the other plans assure the girls of probably a gay season, as every day and night will be filled with a round of parties, scheduled in sequence, so that no date will conflict. The Girls' Cotillon club will play an important part in arranging the schedule of affairs for the debutantes, as it has in the past, and will probably be the first formal one of the season.

Miss Orgill will be among the first to formally entertain, and one of the first where the debutantes will gather. This, in itself, is enough to make the girls wake up and get busy, for Miss Orgill's affairs have always proved something which one might well anticipate—and are never disappointing.

The Cotillon club is to be congratulated upon its officers, and a vote of confidence from all who want to see this season one which will place Memphis on a higher social rating than ever.

Miss Jessie Latham, Miss Alice Lake, Mrs. Andrew Donelson, Mrs. Robert Heard and other members who have reorganized the club for the pleasure and benefit of the 1936 debutantes.

Surely the two country clubs, Vanitie Park and the Country Club in the city will give their hearty co-operation and assistance to the Cotillon club in its effort to make it a memorable year for Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooten Honored

Miss Lela Hodges entertained at her home on Friday evening with a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur Wooten, who have just returned from their bridal tour. Mrs. Wooten was formerly Miss Mabel Martin.

The color scheme of pink with white was used effectively on the dining table in the large banquet centerpiece of roses and ferns. The dainty place cards were handpainted in character pictures of honeysuckles, while the pink shaded candles shed a soft glow over the prettily table which was arranged for 10.

A delicious four-course menu was served, the icing being wedding bells. Miss Hodges' guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Wooten, Mr. George White, Miss Irene Campbell, Mr. Walter Wooten, Miss Elizabeth Sutton, Mr. H. H. Hodges, Miss Margaret Hawkins and Mr. James Wooten.

Whitehaven Parent-Teacher.

The parent-teacher association of Whitehaven school held an unusually well attended and enthusiastic meeting on Friday afternoon at the school. As this was the first fall meeting the ladies decided to start the afternoon with a shower of home-made fruits and vegetables and each lady was requested to bring three cans of some of the home-made products.

An attractive program was given by the first, second and third grade pupils. Little Dorothy Young gave an interesting demonstration of how the school is opened in the morning, reading a chapter from the Bible, then an afternoon routine to the closing hour. Little Malowise Hildebrand gave a well rendered piano selection.

Satisfactory reports from the various committees were read. The fair committee's proceeds from their booth sale were $23.80, which will be used to replace the county contest loving cup and pennants that were destroyed by burning of the school building two years ago.

Following the program a very interesting round table discussion of the aims and purposes of parent-teacher work was held.

Levi School.

Mrs. E. W. Hale, president of the Whitehaven Parent-Teacher association, held a splendid meeting on Friday at the Levi school on the Horn Lake road when a parent-teacher association for the school was organized.

Much enthusiasm was shown by the ladies present, who after the business meeting began at once to entertain an afternoon routine to the closing hour. Little Malowise Hildebrand gave a well rendered piano selection.

Splendid Work of War Camp Community Center to Go On

That the War Camp Community Center will be made a permanent part of the club and city life of Memphis is practically assured, through the interest of members of all men and women's organizations in the city, who met with the War Camp Community Council during the week to discuss ways and means which it might still be retained after being demobilized the latter part of the month by the United States government.

It was estimated that $500 per month will be necessary to continue the work of the organization. The sum of $500 per month has already been pledged, and this before the matter has been taken up by any of the city's large clubs.

Representatives who attended a meeting held at the center on Friday afternoon will present plans to the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions club, the Nineteenth Century club and the Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, next week, by which the organization might be arranged for the maintenance of the Community Center during the year. It was suggested that each organization donate a certain amount for that purpose each month. If all the clubs co-operate—and it is very probable that they will—accomplish what it is most needed, is the true test of its worth. The wholehearted, heartening pleasure which the War Camp Community Center has given to lonely soldiers and sailors; the encouraging and helpful assistance, along with the happiness which comes of congenial comradeship that it has brought into the lives of many lonely girls who have perhaps been working under difficulties in the city are only a few of the reasons why the splendid activities of the War Camp Community Center should go on, with the assistance and earnest co-operation of every citizen who wants to help make Memphis bigger and better.

Miss Montgomery Cooper, who organized the girls' division of the War Camp Community Center, made a splendid report of the activities of the center at the meeting Friday afternoon.

This is the first organization of its kind which has ever worked for community uplift in the city. It is an organization which young girls and business women have learned the true meaning of community service—and wholeheartedly have put it to practice. Miss Cooper, Mrs. G. A. Lavison and others who assist them at the Center, work, not only for the girls, but with them.

Community service is a great thing, and it needs to be more greatly needed than in Memphis, where in less than a year thousands of girls have learned its meaning. Having grasped it, they shall not let it go, and the good men and women of the city will join them in making the Community Center the center of all things worth while.

meetings they will far exceed themselves. The Maury Parent-Teacher association met Friday afternoon with a large attendance of interested members. Miss Elizabeth Patton spoke on the increase of the teacher's salary which was unanimously approved by the association. Reports from the committee on the installation of officers will be held and final arrangements for the match sale, which takes place Tuesday, Oct. 14, will be made.

The election of committees was held which resulted as follows: Mrs. L. Brenner, social service; Mrs. Henry Wales, child welfare; Mrs. C. A. Lesinger, playground; Mrs. Oscar DeFar, day camp; Mrs. Jack Schrock, membership; Mrs. Hays Flowers, educational; Mrs. A. C. Harrison, hygiene; Mrs. Sykes, hospital, and Miss Charles Hanga, press.

Mrs. T. P. Kelley made a very plain and forceful talk on the work of the central committee and the duty of women to register.

Mrs. Walter Gray discussed the facts disclosed in the school survey in a clear and concise manner.

City Union, King's Daughters.

A very interesting meeting of the executive board and officers for the City Union, King's Daughters, was held on Friday afternoon at the Hotel Gayoso, when plans for the completion of the year's work were discussed. It was decided that a meeting of the entire membership of the City union, which includes all circles in the city, as well as the officers and executive board, will be held at the Nineteenth Century club on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
